Sub: Transfer guidelines 2018 along with time schedule of activities for transfer of Teaching and Non-teaching staff for the year 2018 in accordance with the Transfer Policy 2012 and guidelines 2015 – reg.

Sir,

An in-depth analysis of provisions of Transfer Policy 2012 and Guidelines 2015 based on various issues and feedbacks, received from various corners on the outcome of Annual Transfer Drive 2016 and 2017, necessitates re-interpretation of important clauses of the policy and guidelines by the competent authority for better understanding the transfer issues, transparent execution of online processes in order to facilitate all employees for better opportunity of getting their preferred station either through normal transfer or under priority categories. The necessity of reinterpretation has also been realised with a view to stop availing undue advantage by an employee claiming transfer every year on priority grounds, thereby, creating adverse effect on the academic pace and administrative control within vidyalaya's premises. Also felt is the need to stop practice / scope of availing undue transfer or undue exemption from transfer on the basis of inappropriate / illegitimate certificates related to disability, serious ailment and of working spouse of Govt. sector. These practices, simultaneously, have been observed to restrict legitimate right of other eligible employees with similar priorities to get posted in JNVs of their choice, thereby, going against the prime issue of welfare of such employees.

NVS transfer Guidelines dated 22.12.2015 clearly states:

"The Commissioner, NVS is the sole competent authority to interpret provisions of transfer policy and pass such orders as deemed appropriate and essential to facilitate implementation of the transfer guidelines for the purpose of effective control and administration of NVS as a whole".
